From Tuesday August 16. to Saturday August 20. 1715.

St. James's, August 16.

THIS Day the following Addreſs was preſented to his Majeſty by his Grace the Duke of Somerſet, Chancellor of the Univerſity of Cambridge, attended by the Reverend the Vice-Chancellor, and ſeveral Maſters of Colleges, with divers other Members of that Univerſity.

The Humble Addreſs of the Chancellor, Maſters and Scholars of the Univerſity of Cambridge.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE preſume to appear in your Royal Preſence to teſtifie our Zeal and Affection to your Perſon and Government, called to it by the juſt Concern we are under from the Danger which threatens your Majeſty and your People, a Danger in which not only the preſent Age, but even the lateſt Poſterity is deeply concerned; for the Liberty and eſtabliſh'd Religion of Britain, as they have in your Majeſty and your Family the beſt, ſo have they alſo, in all human Views, the laſt Support.

In theſe Circumſtances we ſhou'd forget not only our Oaths and Obligations, but even our ſelves and thoſe who are deareſt to us, ſhou'd we not be forward to pay all due Allegiance to your Majeſty; and thoſe muſt break thro' all the Ties of natural Affection, who can now be guilty of the Crime of Treaſon. While we enjoyed the Bleſſing of our late excellent Princeſs (whoſe Memory will be ever dear and ſacred to us) your Title to this Crown was always our ſecond Care, as your peaceable Enjoyment of it is now become our firſt; and we chearfully embrace this Opportunity to declare to your Majeſty what we have conſtantly profeſt, that we do acknowledge your Majeſty for the only lawful and rightful King of theſe Realms; and that we will by all means ſuitable to our Station maintain and ſupport the Title and Intereſt of your Majeſty and your Family againſt all Oppoſers whatever.

As your Majeſty has been ſo gracious as to promiſe that the Conſtitution in Church and State ſhall be the Rule of your Government, an Aſſurance which has made a laſting Impreſſion on our Minds; ſo we heartily wiſh that all your Subjects, led to a Senſe of their Duty by your Royal Example, may make the ſame Conſtitution the Rule of their Obedience. Such Conſent is the natural Strength of Kingdoms, and wou'd defeat the Attempts and Hopes of all our Enemies: And for our ſelves (whatever Repreſentations have been made to our Prejudice) we do aſſure your Majeſty that we have and will ſo inſtruct the Youth committed to our Care, that in their dutiful Behaviour towards your Majeſty they may ſhew forth an Example of thoſe Principles of Loyalty and Obedience, which this Univerſity, purſuing the Doctrines of our Church, has ever ſteadily maintained.

His Majeſty's moſt Gracious Anſwer.

I Thank you for this Dutiful and Loyal Addreſs. The Univerſity may always depend upon my Favour and Encouragement.

St. James's, Auguſt 16. This Day the following Addreſs was preſented to His Majeſty, by Mr. Nathaniel Hodges, accompanied by divers Miniſters of the ſeveral Denominations of Proteſtant Diſſenters, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Newcaſtle, Lord Lieutenant of the County of Middleſex.

To the KING's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Proteſtant Diſſenting Miniſters, of the ſeveral Denominations in and about the Cities of London and Weſtminſter.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt loyal Subjects think our ſelves oblig'd in Duty and Gratitude humbly to acknowledge that ſeaſonable Protection which your Majeſty has been pleas'd to give to thoſe of our Perſuaſion, from the late Rebellious Tumults, and for your gracious Anſwer to the Addreſs of your faithful Commons, wherein they deſire that a full Compenſation be made to thoſe whoſe Sufferings they ſo juſtly impute to their Zeal and firm Adherence to your Majeſty and your Government.

We can aſſure your Majeſty, that no juſt Occaſion has been given by us to our Fellow-Subjects for any ſuch Treatment; nor can the Principles which oblige us to diſſent from the Church of England, be a reaſonable Provocation to any who have the leaſt regard to the Common Rights of Mankind, or the Rules of the Chriſtian Religion.

We

We desire nothing more than to enjoy our Civil Rights, with a just Liberty to profess our own Religious Sentiments, which we take to be a Privilege due to all Men. We have been always ready to assist the Church of England in defence of the Protestant Religion, when in real and imminent Danger; being agreed with them, and all Protestant Churches, in those Principles that began the Reformation; and which alone can justifie and support it.

When there has been a Design to introduce Popery and Arbitrary Power, the Protestant Dissenters have generally been first attack'd; nor know we any other Reason why we have now suffer'd the Outrage of Papists, Nonjurors, and other disaffected Persons, but that they were sure we were a Body of Men fix'd in our Duty to your Majesty and lay the most expos'd to popular Insults, against which your Majesty and your two Houses of Parliament in your great Wisdom and Goodness have given us a seasonable and we hope effectual Security for time to come.

Whilst your Majesty's Government is disturb'd at home, and threatned with an Invasion from abroad, we can answer for those of our Persuasion, that there are not any of them whose Principles and Inclinations will not influence them to assist and support your Majesty and the Protestant Religion to the utmost of their Power; we look upon our selves bound by the strongest Tyes of Duty, Gratitude and Interest, to acknowledge and maintain your Majesty's undoubted Right and Title to the Imperial Crown of these Realms, and to declare our utmost Abhorrence of all Attempts either at home or abroad in favour of a Popish Pretender.

May that gracious Providence that has so signally appear'd in bringing your Majesty to the Throne of these Kingdoms, continue to protect and defend your Royal Person and Family, against all Attempts of your open and secret Enemies.

His Majesty's most Gracious Answer.

I Am very much concern'd at the unchristian and barbarous Treatment which those of your Persuasion have met with in several Parts of My Kingdom, and Care shall be taken that a full Compensation be made to them for their Sufferings

I thank you for this Dutiful and Loyal Address, and you may be assured of my Protection.

St James's, August 18. The following Address from the Commission of the late General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable the Lord Viscount Townshend, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, was this Day presented by his Lordship, and very graciously received by his Majesty.

To the KING's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Commission of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

May it please your Majesty,

YOur Majesty having had the Goodness to communicate to your People the certain Information you have had of mischievous Designs against our present Happiness, as to our dearest Concerns:

We should be guilty of an unaccountable neglect of our Duty, if we did not upon such an Occasion express our deep Sense that our Religion, our Laws, and our Liberties are, under the good Providence of the Almighty and Infinitely wise God, owing to your Majesty's seasonable and happy Accession to the Throne of these Nations, to which you alone, Great Sir, had the just Title; and the signal Advantages we have been already Partakers of, and still enjoy under your Majesty's wise and just Administration, give us such a comfortable Prospect of our own and our Posterity's future Happiness under the auspicious Settlement of the Crown upon your sacred Person, and the Protestant Line in your Royal Family, that there is nothing that ought to be so dear to us as not to hazard for preserving such an excellent Establishment as makes all that is dear to us our own, and is, under God, our strongest Bulwark against Popery and Slavery.

When we reflect upon the lamentable Circumstances these Nations would be in, both as to Religion and Civil Liberties, if a Pretender, educated in the Abominations of Popery and Maxims of Tyranny, supported from abroad by such as are Enemies to the Liberties of Europe, and by a deluded Jacobite dissaffected Party at home, should succeed in his Designs, we cannot but be sensible that the having a Sovereign who hath the Happiness of his People for his great Aim, is so valuable a Blessing as must make us have the utmost Detestation of whatever may have the least Tendency to deprive us of it.

We therefore, Great Sir, beg Leave to assure your Majesty, that we shall always endeavour in our Stations to testify our constant Fidelity and Affection to your sacred Person and Government, and our Readiness unanimously and heartily to concur in whatever Method shall be suitable to our Character with all your other Subjects, who are true Protestants and sincere Lovers of your Majesty's Royal Person and the Settlement of the Protestant Succession, for the Stability of the Crown upon your sacred Head, for the Protestant Religion, and all the valuable Blessings that in the Goodness of God we are now possessed of under your happy Administration, against the Pretender and all other Enemies to the true Interest of these Nations.

May your Majesty under Divine Protection and Conduct long sway the Scepter over your People for the publick Good at home and abroad; may you be a Terror to all your Enemies, and for ever dash the Hopes of all that are Opposers of your just Title; and may you, after fulness of happy Days upon Earth, be crowned with Glory, Honour and Immortality in Heaven, transmitting the Scepter of these Nations to your Royal Progeny through all future Generations. These are the sincere and fervent Prayers of, May it please your Majesty, Your Majesty's most Faithful, most Obedient, and most Loyal Subjects, the Ministers and Elders met in the Commission of the General Assemly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed in our Presence, in our Name, and at our Appointment, by Sic Subscribitur W. Carstares, Moderator.

St. James's,

St. James's, August 19, This Day the following Addreſs was preſented to his Majeſty, by Lieutenant General Hatton Compton, Lord Lieutenant of the Tower Hamlets.

To the KING's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Lord Lieutenant, and Deputy Lieutenants of the Tower Hamlets.

May it pleaſe your moſt Gracious Majeſty,

WITH the utmoſt Reſentment we obſerve the fatal Conſequences of that Peace, which after a long and uninterrupted Courſe of Victories, brings us a gain thus ſoon into the Danger of an Invaſion from the Pretender.

We come with faithful Hearts to aſſure your Majeſty, that we abhor and deteſt the Treachery of thoſe that have ſo Scandalouſly and Unnaturally betray'd their Country; and all the wicked Arts of ſuch, as are ſtill contriving, by falſe and malicious Inſinuations againſt your Majeſty's Perſon and Government, to Alienate the Affections of your People, to foment Riots, and raiſe Rebellions,

We adore that Providence, which with inexpreſſible goodneſs to this Nation, has brought your Sacred Majeſty to the Poſſeſſion of your Dominions at ſo critical a Juncture. We promiſe on our Parts to be always ready to give the utmoſt Proofs of our Zeal and Loyalty, to ſtand by and ſupport your juſt and undoubted Title to the Crown, and the Succeſſion of it, as it is by Law eſtabliſh'd, in your Royal Family.

And we beg leave humbly to aſſure your Majeſty, that we will, with the higheſt Senſe of Gratitude, make uſe of that Truſt which you have been pleaſed to Repoſe in us, in the moſt Effectual manner for your Majeſty's Service, and the Security of your moſt Sacred Perſon and Government, both in Church and State, againſt all Invaſions from abroad, and Inſurrections at home. May the good God, who hath with ſo particular a Providence placed you on the Throne, Grant you a very long and happy Reign over us, and perpetuate the Succeſſion to the ſame in your Royal Line.

His Majeſty's moſt Gracious Anſwer.

I Thank you for this Dutiful and Loyal Addreſs, in which you expreſs ſo much Zeal and Affection for my Perſon and Government.
